

K-12 HUMAN GROWTH AND DEVELOPMENT

Iowa Senate File #2094 created instructional requirements for human growth and development in grades K-12. Each school district established a community advisory committee made up of parents, teachers, administrators, clergy, business people and medical professionals to develop its own health education curriculum.

A complete list of teaching/learning objectives is available for each grade level from the Director of Instructional Services. Parents/guardians may make arrangements to review instructional materials and to discuss any questions they may have about the units by contacting the building principal.

A pupil is not required to take instruction in human growth and development if the pupil's parent or guardian files a written request that the pupil be excused from the instruction. Student excuse forms may be obtained from the building principal.
